The subcommittee has met twice, October 11 and October 27. At the first meeting, the group reviewed the self-study questions and discussed the need for additional information from the steering committee and how we might approach the task by dividing the questions among the group.

The second meeting, October 27, took place after a steering committee meeting and thus gave us a clearer focus and a better sense of resources available. The group divided the self-study questions among the membership, and set deadlines for ourselves, with firm plans to meet in early January to collaborate on a draft of the complete report. (Exact dates cannot be determined until course registration for winter term is complete, but we plan to have a rough draft by January 12 and the final draft ready for the steering committee by the January 26 deadline.)

Respectfully submitted by Elizabeth A. Kissling
