JAZZ DIALOGUE...
LEARN THE LANGUAGE OF JAZZ

Eastern Washington University Department of Music is proud to announce the 2006 EWU Jazz Dialogue Festival, Nov. 16-18. The emphasis of this unique instrumental and vocal jazz festival is on education, improvisation and the jazz language.

This year’s festival will feature Colorado pianist Dana Landry and his Trio, joined by the festival guest artists, Reggie Thomas, piano, and Mardra Thomas, vocals, and the Collegiate Best-Section Band on Thursday. On Friday, experience a spectacular musical journey with the High School Best-Section Big Band and festival guest artists, followed by trumpet legend Clay Jenkins. The special guest for Saturday’s activities will be Los Angeles Trombone phenom, Andy Martin, to electrify our jazz and university community!

The fun in learning continues all three days with clinics, ensemble critiques, workshops, open rehearsals and master classes with the guest artists, local Northwest musicians and faculty from Eastern. These events will be held in the Music Building on campus. The evening concerts will be held at 8 p.m. in historic Showalter Auditorium.

An EWU faculty emeritus will be honored during the festival by naming our Zyskowski Rhythm Section Award after Marty Zyskowski, professor of music, 1968-2006.

Jazz Dialogue 2006 promises to be an exciting opportunity to learn more about the language of jazz and be a part of a great weekend of music.

SUPPORTING THE FESTIVAL

When you give to the EWU Jazz Dialogue Festival you become a partner in our effort to provide students in the Northwest with the opportunity to learn from international jazz artists in clinics, ensemble critiques, workshops, open rehearsals and master classes. In addition, students have the opportunity not only to learn from and be inspired by great musicians in jazz, but they also get to play alongside the visiting artists. This can be a life-changing experience for young musicians. I hope you will join us as a sponsor of this wonderful program.

Sincerely,

Rob Tapper
Director of EWU Jazz Activities
